

Trojan-Horse Era

Good Thoughts [Humata],
Good Words [Hukhta],
Good Deeds [Huvarshta]

In 12th or 13th century BC, there was a historical war which occurred between Trojan people against united allied Greek and Spartan, and Trojan people were residing in today's north-western Turkey¹⁶⁴.

The Trojan War incurred between Trojan against Greek and Spartan because of one young Trojan prince with name of Paris, who had a love affair with Spartan King's wife with name of Helen. This love affair took a few steps forward, and as usual love is blind which led to some serious mistake.

Helen and Paris fled the Spartan King's palace and took refuge in Paris father's fortress. The Greek and the Spartan made alliance and invaded today's northwest Turkey because the Spartan King became furious when he noticed that his wife Helen had love affair with Paris and they fled his kingdom, the king wanted to take revenge on Helen and Paris.

Trojan people were able to endure ten years of war and the Greek and the Spartan forces could not penetrate the Trojan fortress. The Greek and the Spartan decided to do a military coup. They made a wooden horse and several well trained soldiers concealed themselves inside the wooden horse. The Greek and the Spartan fleets pretended to leave the battle scene and left the wooden horse to Trojan people.

The Trojan thought that the enemy was defeated and the wooden horse was left behind for them as a sign of gods that the gods punished the Greek and the Spartan. They brought the wooden horse in their fortress, and people began to cheer their victories, they held a magnificent feast, and they cheered their victory.

As public drank good wines and danced with their love ones and were under impression that they won the war, they went to beauty sleep and waiting to be awakening with a nightmare which had become reality. The Trojan had forgotten that enemy did not leave them alone and now enemy was inside of their beloved fortress and was going to shed their blood without faith, without mercy.

The well trained soldiers came out of the wooden horse, opened the fortress doors for reinforces to seize the fortress, and Trojan people's fate was sealed for rest of the history.

The point is this that the Greek and the Spartan had to go to war because of the Spartan king's whim of losing his wife to a young prince.

Once the Greek and the Spartan came to conclusion that they could not defeat their enemy, they made a military coup and defeated their enemy. Today, our world is not any different than what did happen in 12th or 13th century. Western politicians have been blinded by the Mullahs money.

The Mullahs are throwing money on Western politician faces and the Western politicians say it is ok to murder people, as long as, the Mullahs are paying politicians, at the same time, the Mullahs well trained soldiers are entering in the West and waiting for right opportune moment with intention to strike at the West. Now, West enjoys short and sweet victory.

On December 31st, 1977 Former US Democrat President Jimmy CARTER toasted a drink with His Majesty Just and Benevolent King of Kings Mohammad Reza PAHLAVI I. Mr. CARTER told his audience that Iran was located in a turmoil region but Iran is "an island of stability"¹⁶⁵. After the above historical moment, all troubles embarked in Iran, beloved Iran was no longer a stable country, Iran was rampaged with terrorist activities as thugs, hooligans, and hoodlum were murdering people in Iran and some of the thugs, hooligans, and hoodlum were made in Palestine that they came to Iran in order to create unsafe environment in Iran.

As it turned out people like Mr. CARTER and other tools were utilized against Iran in order to cause chaos in Iran [Mr. CARTER, you pray to God or Jesus (I respect Trinity) for forgiveness for what you have done in Iran and Iranian people, maybe God would forgive you on His portion.

However, on Judgment Day I will not forgive you for what you have done to Iran and Iranian people, and will ask God for maximum punishment, you may laugh now, but I will laugh later, how is your sleeping habit any bad dreams lately

Writing books to confess that you acted in good faith?].

The above incident gave birth to Trojan-Horse Era and gradual development of Trojan-Horse Era policies. The Trojan-Horse Era kept ordinary people in darkness and not knowing what will happen next.

And why certain events were taking place. There were the elite classes who masterminded political and military events against one another on global scale. Once, there was a media leakage, the elite classes from the West would blame the matter on low ranking and vulnerable staffs.

In the East, the Mullahs would preach to public that it was Allah's will or act that saved us from Satan and so on...

In 1980, there was US and Russia proxy war in Afghanistan occurred, when the US military delivery arsenal cargo was exploited by Red Russian Army rockets on Iran's soil close by Afghanistan border.

The US claimed that there was a covert operation to save their hostages in Iran! When the US was selling arsenal secretly to Mullahs in Iran and the US and the Mullahs love affair made public headlines, the US claimed that the US had to negotiate with the Mullahs over hostages in Iran! When there was time of bloodbath in the US, and the US approved assassination of the Shah's former press attaché Ali Akbr Tabatabai, the US claimed that it had to do because the US had to negotiate with the Mullahs over hostages in Iran! The other Western nations followed same foot step of the US Trojan-Horse Era Policies, in France Dr. Shapur BAKHTIAR was assassinated, Dr. Feridoun FAROUKHZAD was assassinated in Germany and list of assassinations evolved on how the West directly, and sometimes indirectly took part in assassination of important figures, as such Honorable Immortal General Ovisi, Honorable Immortal Prince General Shahryar Shafiq [His Majesty's nephew] and so on... {the list is really very long, and cannot write down everyone's name and not ignoring anyone, I am sorry. Sometimes in future they all will be mention}. The West elite classes were thinking better themselves, but the West ignored Iranian dissident advice that shaking hands with the devil has it is own cost to pay which is their own blood.
